

Author

- The names of authors, artists, or composers are represented in inverted form (last name first)
- For works with more than one author, represent the first author's name in inverted form and additional authors in regular order. For example: Eggers, Linda, and Barr, Candy. Note the comma after the first name.
- For works with more than three authors, you have a choice: either use the inverted name of the first author followed by the words et al., or list all names in the order they appear on the title page. In the second choice, only the first author's name is inverted and each name is followed by a comma.
- The names of corporate authors are not listed in inverted form.
- The author field ends with a period in the bibliographic citation

Broadcast Network

- For broadcast materials, indicate the name of the network and the call letters of the station hosting the broadcast
- Enter the station call letters in the publication field, and the network name after the title field

Date

- The date field ends with a period
- For materials accessed via the WWW, include the date of access
- If the materials do not include a publication or issue date, include the following abbreviation in the date field: n.d.
- Represent dates in inverted form, as Day Month Year

Director

- In references for performances or audiovisual material, include an additional reference to directors, composers, or other notable participants

Edition

- Include an edition field in the bibliographic citation if one is printed on either the books title page or copyright page
- The edition field follows the title field in the bibliographic citation

Format

- In references for audiovisual materials, indicate the format in abbreviated form

Government Agency

- For government publications, reference the issuing agency, along with any individual authors given
- The issuing government agency occupies the author field, and additional authors are listed after the title field

Manufacturer

- Include the manufacturer of the material in citations for audiovisual materials
- The manufacturer of audiovisual materials occupies the citation in the place occupied by the publisher in citations for books

Pagination

- Reference the full range of pages in bibliographic citations
- In parenthetical references, the page number follows the abbreviated reference without a comma.

Place (Location)

- For lectures or performances, include the location instead of the place of publication
- For lectures, conferences, performances, exhibitions and the like, include the hosting institution or organization

Cite Source MLA Style - Style Pointers, cont.

Publisher or Distributor

- Include the name of the publisher for materials for which a publisher is given
- Represent the name of the publisher without extraneous identifiers like the words 'company,' 'publisher,' 'incorporated,' etc.

Title

- Enclose the titles of articles, segments, or reviews in quotation marks
- The article title field ends with a period in the bibliographic citation
- Enclose the titles of unpublished materials in quotation marks
- Titles of whole works are underlined NOT italicized
- Titles of parts of works (chapters, articles, etc.) are enclosed in quotation marks
- If no individual or corporate author is named in the work, the title of the whole work comes first in the citation

Translator

- Include the name of the translator, if one is given, after the title field

URL (Web Address)

- For materials accessed via the WWW, include the site's URL after the title field and the date of access

Volume, Issue and Publication Numbers

- In serial publications, include both the volume and issue number, if both are given
- If both a volume number and an issue number are given, separate the volume number and the issue number with a period

Web site

- For materials accessed via the WWW, indicate the title of the Web site containing the materials
- Underline titles of Web sites, and enclose the names of Web pages contained within the site in quotation marks

For more information about each part of the citation and for examples of page formatting of references see:
<http://citesource.trincoll.edu/mla/index.html>